CLASS OF JUNE, 1932

HISTORY

Class History

By HERMAN BAPTISTE

GRADUATION, that momentous occasion has come. Our high school career is over. We look back to those golden years in the school on the hill—those busy years filled with scholastic, social, and athletic activities.

It seems that only a few months ago we first assembled in the auditorium to get instructions from Mr. Williams. As a previous class historian has said, "The years go fast in old New Bedford." In actuality we, the class of June, 1932, entered high school in the fall of 1929.

We began our high school career with the following officers whom we elected at our first class meeting: Herbert Davidson, President; Cynthia Robbins, vice-president; George Hemphill, secretary; and Hunt Sutherland, treasurer.

The Freshman Reception was our first social activity. It was a colorful affair. Our own Senior year seemed as far away as a speck on a distant horizon.

The officers chosen at our second class meeting were Herbert Davidson, president; Moses Goldberg, vice-president; Grace Messier, secretary, and Chester Shaw, treasurer. For this year there are no other chronicles.

The following year we had a Junior Prom, the first in the history of the school. It was a great success. In our estimation it was even better than the Freshman Reception.

As Juniors we had for our class officers Herbert Davidson, president; George Otis, vice-president; George Hemphill, secretary; and Ada Jackson, treasurer.

Athletics became popular with many members of our class and some of them acquired enough skill to make themselves useful.

Football, that spectacular sport, called for the following list of June, 1932, graduates: "Howie" Bolduc, "Heinie" Sullivan, "Mushy" Braga, "Ray" Atwood, George Hemphill, John Fonseca, "Al" Duarte, and Stephen Ponichtera. What a loss to Mr. Murphy!

In basketball we were represented by John Fonseca, Gordon Handler, George Hemphill, "Ray" Atwood, "Mushy" Braga, "Heinie" Sullivan, "Howie" Bolduc, and George Otis.

Baseball claimed George Hemphill, George Otis, "Ray" Atwood, "Mushy" Braga, and "Heinie" Sullivan.

Edward Twarog, "Joe" Hennessey, Arthur Santos, Edward Hall, and Wallace Downhill make up our soccer players. They surely proved valuable material for Mr. Ferguson.

Our track-men were "Mushy" Braga, "Ray" Atwood, "Howie" Bolduc, and Carl Fuller.

On the girls' basketball teams we were represented by Ruth Nield, Margaret Brown, Cynthia Robbins, and Margaret Mosher.

We have been just as prominent in the scholastic and social activities of the school as we have been in the athletic activities.

A large number of June, 1932, graduates are in the Honor Society. They are Hunt Sutherland, president; Ada Jackson, vice-president; Marion Sharples, treasurer; Herman Baptiste, Ellen Langton, Miriam Sargeant, Ida Hurwitz, Benjamin Wishnietsky, Moses Goldberg, Philip Bronspiegel, Helen Fell, Annie Ladetto, Eliza Moura, Anna Beveridge, Helen MacIntyre, Mary Murphy, Earl Curtis, Elizabeth Radcliffe, Marion Tripp, and Andre' Brisse.

The four officers of the Dramatic Club, Robert Moore, president, Russell Carroll, vice-president; Eleanor Collins, secretary; and Herman Baptiste, treasurer; are all members of our class.

Valuable members of the Alpha Debating Society who are graduating are Moses Goldberg, Ada Jackson, Helen Schick, Ellery Macomber, Herman Baptiste, and Samuel Galvam.

The band, orchestra, and the glee clubs will lose many of their members as a result of our graduation.

The following are our R. O. T. C. officers: Norman Gomes, Major; Hunt Sutherland, Captain-adjutant; Andre' Brisse, Captain; Clifford Beck, first lieutenant; Stephen Kubacki, first lieutenant; Carl Fuller, second lieutenant, Allen Keith, second lieutenant; and Gordon Parsons, second lieutenant. Grace Messier, Eleanor Collins, and Ruth Nield, of our class, have served as company sponsors. No other class has been so ably represented in the R. O. T. C.

Ruth Nield, Eleanor Collins, Elizabeth Radcliffe, Pearl Bilsky, Cynthia Robbins, Louise Pierce, Miriam Sargeant, Martha Wilde, and Dorothy Hicks have been valuable members of the Girls' Welfare League.

The events of our Senior year began with the election of officers. Hunt Sutherland was chosen president; Grace Messier, vice-president; George Hemphill, secretary; and Ada Jackson, treasurer.

Following this came the Washington Pageant the crowning achievement of High School dramatics in which a great many of the Senior Class took part.

We gave a class dance on May 13. Like everything else we did, this was also a success.

Instead of class meetings we elected a nominating committee to choose the class historian, prophets, giftorians, and the different committees. This proved to be a very convenient method.

Mr. Williams announced the Honor Students at the beginning of the second Senior term. They were Miriam Sargeant, valedictorian; Ida Hurwitz, salutatorian; Mary Murphy, Ellen Langton, Benjamin Wishnietsky, Earl Curtis, Hunt Sutherland, Philip Bronspiegel, Marion Sharples, Marion Tripp, Elizabeth Radcliffe, Alvaro Duarte, Helen McIntyre, Ada Jackson, Helen Fell, and Anna Beveridge.

Then came class day, the "prom", the banquet, and commencement—all occasions which are long remembered.

Graduation was a most inspiring and solemn occasion. As we received our diplomas, we realized sadly that our high school existence was over.

The future, that great enigma, looms before us. With the knowledge and with the pure joys of our high school career we, the class of June, 1932, bravely face the world.

Foreword

WE, the class book committee, have compiled this book to crystallize and preserve the priceless events of our high school career in order to bind and perpetuate our classroom comradeships and to draw closer together the seniors of NEW BEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL. The Class Book Committee will be amply repaid for their efforts if the JUNE 1932 BOOK is received in the same spirit in which it was published.

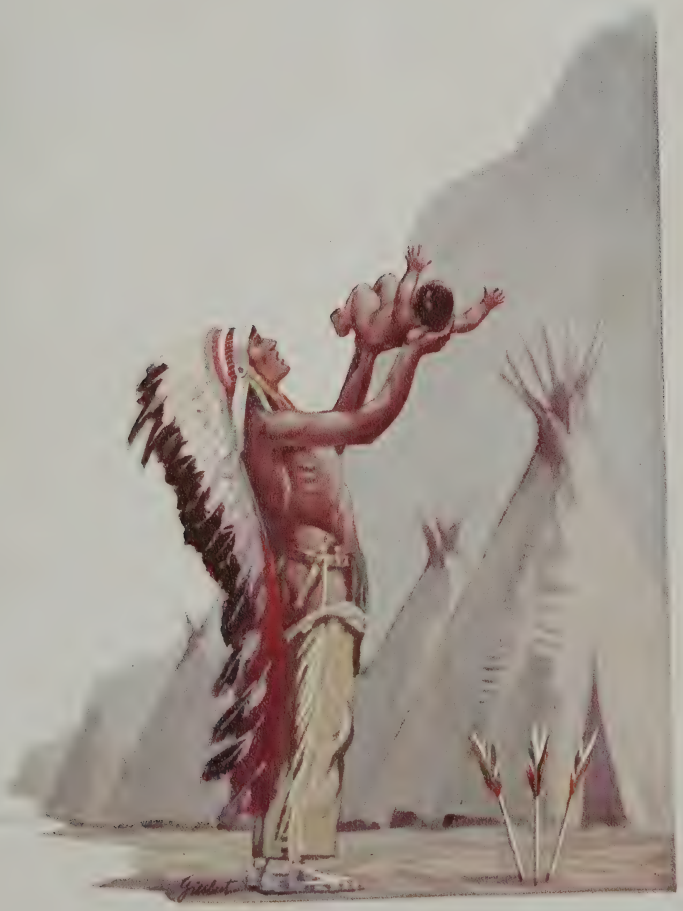
GIFTORY



Giftory of the Class of June, 1932

Scientific Course

By EARL CURTIS

HERMAN BAPTISTE — Paper

When you next prepare a speech,
Perhaps this paper clean
You can use when you reach
The point where inspiration you have seen.

CLIFFORD BECK — Pop Gun

If you cut the string
On this little pop gun,
You will be able to ring
The targets on the run.

WILLIAM BENJAMIN — Paint Brush

Be prepared with this brush
For the time when you get
The call to go to work
And paint a house or a set.

PAUL BONNAR — Dime

Here is a brand new dime.
Although only ten cents,
You can use your Scotch
To stretch it with the best.

ROBERT J. BOULET — Razor Blades

When these blades you may use,
Think of the many close shaves
By which you have been abused
While trying, your marks, to save.

WALTON E. BRALEY, JR. — Fish Line

When the chores are done,
Some morning very soon,
To the fish pond be gone
And test this line till noon.

ANDRE' N. BRISSE — Harmonica

With the fiddle and the sax
You have tried your hand
So here's a new mouth organ
To play to beat the band.

ARTHUR CABRAL — Eraser

This eraser you will find
To be a handy thing.
When you make a slip,
Erase it on the wing.

RUSSELL A. CARROLL — Whistle

This whistle you will find
Will make a noise loud
So when you blow off steam,
Just use this handy sound.

ARTHUR F. COLWELL, JR. — Tennis Racket

With this tennis racket
You may exercise with pleasure.
All day long you may play
To obtain a slender figure.

HERBERT W. DAVIDSON — Gavel

Here is an instrument
With which to rap for order
When as a president
You can not make them mind.

JOHN FONSECA — Baseball

Here's a brand new baseball.
If you practice faithfully,
You soon may have a call
To join the Giants or the Reds.

CARL FULLER — Brush

The Fuller Brushes brew
In me the clue in a rush
Of what I shall get for you.
A nice new ten cent brush.

JOSEPH GALVAM — Horseshoe

When everything seems to go wrong
And your thoughts are not gay,
Just cast this over your shoulder
And good luck may come your way.

HERBERT GROSS — Radio

A radio fan you are
So here's a radio,
Stations both near and far
You may try and not get.

JOHN GUNNING — Pair of Compasses

When next you may be lost
Within the mazes of some
Problem in geometry,
Just use these compasses.

GORDON HANDLER — Puzzle

Here's a little puzzle
For you to try to handle.
If you can handle this,
You can handle anything.

GEORGE HELLYER — Pipe

It seems to be the style
For all young men of class
To smoke a smoky pipe
So smoke this when people pass.

JOSEPH HENNESSEY — Glasses

These glasses I got for you
Without any reason why.
I hope you can find two
Or three before you sigh.

MILTON HERSTOFF — Shovel

When next to Horseneck you do go,
Take along this shovel bright
To dig on the sandy shore,
Or play on the sand dunes' heights.

EMIL HERZOG — Diary

In this little diary
You can place from day to day
Your longings for a fairy
To bring back happy high school days.

JOHN A. HILTON — Boat

You are a sailor real
And a lover of the sea
So here's a boat to sail
In the deep bathtub sea.

ARTHUR HOLMSTROM — Stick of Gum

This should keep you chewing
Throughout many a day.
When through, take this warning.
Not to leave it in the way.

MILTON HORENSTEIN — Rattle

Every class must a rattle give
To some unlucky boy
So it is for you to live
While rattling for joy.

GABRIEL and HARVEY KROUDVIRD — A Red and a Blue Tie

To me you look alike
So it will help me out
If Harvey wears the red
And Gabriel the blue.

STEPHEN KUBACKI — Shoe Polish

Do not spare this polish
If you want your new shoes
To keep their classy polish
When everyone steps on your toes.

ANDREW A. LAFFERTY — Game

When you are all alone
And no one is around,
This game may prove a boon
And take away your gloom.

EMIL LEMOINE — Pen

When you wish to write
In an awful hurry
And this pen will not write,
Then 'twill be your turn to worry.

FRANK McCARTY — Airplane

Just another aeroplane
For your collection.
The only trouble, plain,
Is, this one will not fly.

ARTHUR MARKOVITZ — Crayons

We often hear of one
Who has made his mark in life.
So with these crayons, son,
You are well equipped for the strife.

EDWARD MIDURSKI — Dictionary

Let us hope that this book
Will give you the answers near
To some of the questions
You have flung about here.

ELTON WARREN MORDE — Curling Iron

If your hair should ever fail
To contain its lovely wave,
This curling iron hail,
The lovely wave, to save.

ALBERT C. NEAGUS, JR. — Pins

Drop these pins few by few
Until you haven't one.
Then to have good luck too,
Daily pick them up one by one.

NORMAN NISBET — Bed

During many long years
You have slept from eight to one.
Now you will not have to fear
For here's a bed you have won.

GEORGE LEONARD NOWELL — An "A"

For four long years or more
You have struggled very hard
To obtain E's and D's
So here's an A for your card.

MARY OWERS — Bow and Arrow

On the archery field
You have made your mark
So here's a bow to wield
To make yourself a shark.

GORDON PARSONS — Slide Rule

Here is a brand new tool
Which you will find of use.
Soon you will use this rule
To multiply two by two.

FRANCIS PERRON — Book

If, when the sea rages,
You should become bored,
Just dip into the pages
Of this thrilling book.

ROLAND PETIT — Bottle of Pills

When you wish to begin
A drug store of your own,
These pills will help you to win,
A start up and not down.

WALTON B. PHILLIPS — Cap

Here is a useful gift
For a tall man like you.
When the car hits a bump,
This cap will not be crushed.

STEFAN PONICHTERA — First Aid Kit

If in a panic, you
Should ever find yourself
Just use this handy kit
To bind up yourself.

ALLAN L. RAWCLIFFE — Auto

With this bright new machine
You can ride to the city
Across the river wide
At, at least, seventy.

CHARLES RICHARDS — Soap

After fixing autos
If your hands are black,
Do not despair or frown
But use this cake of soap.

CHARLES RYMUT — Ring

Put this on your finger
Don't ask me which one
Then around you folks will linger
To see glass sparkle like the sun.

WILLIAM CHESTER SHAW — Balloon

Use this balloon to test
The power of your wind.
It should be of the best
From puffing the trombone.

HUNT SUTHERLAND — Tape Measure

Often have I wondered
Just how tall you might be.
Here is a measuring tape
Which you might use to see.

AUGUST C. TAVEIRA — Shoe Laces

My stock of gifts is getting low,
My mind is circling 'round,
But at last I have thought of these
To tie your shoes up sound.

ALBERT TETRAULT — Peanuts

A useful gift is this
For a young zoo keeper,
A full bag of peanuts
To feed the monks and bears.

EDMOND J. TOMASIK — Whistle

When in the morning bright
You peddle milk from door to door,
Just use this whistle right
To wake up the people poor.

FREDERICK G. WALSH — Drawing Pencil

When next you want to draw,
At least you will not have
To hunt in chest or draw
To find a pencil sharp.

DAVID WAXLER — Sealing Wax

You might use this wax stick
For a number of things.
One from which to get a kick
Would be to seal this thing.

Classical Course

By PEARL BILSKY

ANNA BEVERIDGE — Lipstick

To Anna, the blessed angel,
To Anna, the teacher's pet,
To Anna, above all meekest,
Here, Anna, you're all set.

BERNICE BIGELOW — Murads

Miss Young America, the star of our show,
Must be nonchalant wherever she goes,
And when she acts, if her fame starts to grow,
Murads will help calm her, so we're told.

PHILIP BRONSPEIGEL — Scissors

When you make an operation on a man like Ghandi,
And you find there are no implements handy,
If you just take out these scissors small
You'll be the best surgeon of them all.

RUTH CAIN — Yeast

To you, dear Ruthie, I hand this yeast
To make you strong and tall
And when you're through I'm sure this will do
To keep you from being so small.

LILLY E. CARTIER — Bow and Arrow

Your bright eyes will get you almost anywhere
But in case they ever should fail you
Cupid's trick should do its share
Then you'll have a young man to attend.

MASON ELLIS CHACE — Balloon

You weren't serious, but I happen to know
You were often thoughtful and liked to be so
Here's something to think over and figure about
How much air is put in and how fast it comes out.

ELEANOR COLLINS — Opera Glasses

At the height of the season's social functions
If you should meet a grand Duke or Duchess
Take out these small opera glasses
And I'm sure you'll be a success.

PRESTON CUNNINGHAM — Tape

They say in China it was the style
To bind girl's feet up for a while
I'm sure that mode for you will do
And then your feet will fit your shoes.

BEATRICE FINE — Drum

In school you were as quiet as a clam
No noise from you could we rent
And now the graduate must change her plan
And make noise to her heart's content.

ESTHER FONTES — My Bottle Washer

In chemistry you were very good
Of course we all know that
And now you'll use my cleaner again
But this time for Mary's cat.

SAMUEL GALVAM — Dime

Some day little Sammy will be a famous man
He'll wear a derby and a diamond on his hand
But if ever he's broke and he will be some time
This coin will help even though it's a dime.

MILTON GELLER — Bow

In our high school orchestra you were a wow
When we wanted a cella—you showed us how
But some day your bow might break in two
So to be pessimistic I found this for you.

RUTH GIBSON — Sling Shot

You do quite well in archery
But if ever you miss your shot
Use this instead of a bow and arrow
And put some young man "on the spot".

MOSES GOLDBERG — Pacifier

When Moses gets heated in a debate
It's hard to keep him still
If theres' anything to keep him quiet
I'm sure this pacifier will.

MORRIS GREENSTEIN — Stein

In chemistry some day you'll be a success
You'll compare with Einstein, the great scientist
As far as I know you both love your "stein"
The kind filled with beer is what I had in mind.

HILDA HARTMAN — Joke

Whenever things were dull and gray
You always seemed to make them bright
If your jokes ever should give way
Here's something to help you in your plight.

GEORGE HEMPHILL — Bed

You always used to sleep in school
For at night you were with Muriel as a rule
So take this advice into your head
From now on please sleep in bed.

DOROTHY HICKS — Dictionary

When you're far away at college
And in history you're asked to recite
Take this dictionary from cold storage
And use words that make you bright.

BERTHA HORVITZ — Megaphone

In sports we see Bert is at home
So to her I leave this megaphone
All other cheer leaders will seem tame
When we see Bert at a college game.

ADA JACKSON — Silver Spoon

You are both pretty and very smart
So I really do believe
You had a "pull" with the Fates up there
Look what I found up my sleeve.

IRWIN JASLOW — Machine

You always liked to make a date
And meet your girl friends there
With this machine you should call for them
And then give them the air.

CHARLOTTE JENNEY — Violin

In symphony Hall when you play some night
And your own violin goes on the run
There's where my gift will set things right
And I'm sure it will help you out some.

HELEN KOCZERA — Whistle

Some one told me you were quiet
Here's your chance to make a riot
Blow on this whistle with all your might
And see what will happen if your lonely some night.

ELLEN LANGTON — Curling Irons

To keep your hair neat is a puzzle
So I'll help you in your trouble
Let these irons do their stuff
But tell the boys not to be so ruff.

MILDRED MANLEY — Candy

Some say, "Will Mildred never grow up?"
"Will she always be so unhandy?"
But I say let's cheer little Milly up
And give her a piece of candy.

ARNOLD MICKELSON — Needle and Thread

Who said here's depression?
Oh no! not with him
For Arnold's a tailor
Doesn't he work with vim?

ROBERT MOORE — Stage

Barrymore or Frederick March has nothing on you
We all know your ability much more than you do
In this little stage if you play your part
In some little way you'll cheer some lonely heart.

HELEN MORIARTY — Hairpins

Helen you're not so fastidious
And you're never what we would call prim
But do take a little more trouble
And fix up those ends with these pins.

MARY MURPHY — Book

Mary, Mary, quite contrary
How does your Latin go?
A little study each day keeps Dr. Tukey away
And you might be at the head of your row.

RUTH NIELD — Teapot

I suppose with Eleanor you'll come out
And your bow will be the best of the year
For social teas you'll have to pour
So why not start practicing here?

EVELYN NIMMO — Pepper

To Evelyn, the gentle, so meek and so prim
We have to give something to give her some vim
As I look over the store in my giftory—
Evelyn, pepper is the thing for thee

JOSEPH W. NORMILE — Milk

It's hard to tell what talents within
A young man so tall and so very slim
Drink down this milk and get nice and fat
And I'll tell you what—after that.

GEORGE OTIS — Measure

When you're away helping Ziegfield to pick
The beautiful follies in his show
If its to measure the distance of a kick
Then you'll be able to, dontcha' know.

HENRY PERRY — Hammer

Henry was always willing to talk
He talked both quick and bland
Now he's an orator on a soap box
Let's put this hammer in his hand.

LOUISE PIERCE — Record

Louise you like to talk a lot
Of most women that is true
You've broken many a teacher's heart
Let's see you break this record too.

ELEANOR RICHARDSON — E String

To Eleanor I give this string
I'm sure it will be just the thing
If ever her own should break in two
She wouldn't need to feel so blue.

CYNTHIA ROBBINS — Trap

I've heard of pretty nurses
Taking some doctor's eye
So if the chance should come along
Don't let it slip you by.

MIRIAM SARGEANT — Card Board A

To one with highest honors
It's hard to know what will fit
This A will last longer than others
And I'll feel as if I've done my bit.

HELEN SCHICK — Thermometer

A thermometer goes to Helen Schick
For when she winks the boys come quick
She keeps them so excited and full of heat
Their pulses begin on a quick rythmn beat.

JENNIE SHOWSKY — Paper Bag

Trunks do take up so much room
And they're really so heavy to drag
That the next time you go to Europe
Put your clothes in this paper bag.

MYER SHUSTER — Nitric Acid

Myer, your hair is very red
Your freckles are very wrong
This I'm sure will cure them both
Nitric Acid is very strong.

LOUISE SYLVIA — Harmonica

If ever your voice gets in a ditch
On this Louise you take your pitch
And when from you the songs do spout
Think of the girl who helped you out.

RUDOLPH TOMKOWICZ — Pencil and Paper

You like to cartoon funny pictures
And make fun of each one in your way
Well, here's aid to you, our budding genius
It may come in handy some day.

MARTHA WILDE — Man Doll

One day I heard her praying
Out in the open air
So I'll give this man to Martha
The answer to her maidenhood prayer.

BENJAMIN WISHNIETSKY — Yellow Card

Benjamin here's a surprise for you
Don't let it make you feel too blue
But if ever in college your marks should start falling
Don't say that I didn't give you a warning.

MARY WYGRZYWALSKA — Cat and Canary

Bert prophesied that you would be
An old maid alone in the country
So in case your companions are hard to find
Here's cat and canary—the gifts are mine.

Normal Course

By ELIZABETH RADCLIFFE

FLORENCE ABRAMS — Curling Irons

To curl the ends of your hair,
From Paris we've heard, its just right,
We give you these irons, take care,
For too much heat will make you a sight!

IRENE BARBIERI — Pep Cereal

To Irene who is always late,
Who forever makes the bus wait,
We give you this Pep, to enliven your step,
To see, in the future, if you can't change your "rep".

FRANCES BOUCHER — Bobby Pins

Here are some new bobby pins
To keep your hair in place.
They will defy the briskest winds,
And keep stray locks from off your face.

FRANCES BROWN — Comb

To keep your locks straight,
To keep them in trim,
We know, sure as fate,
That this comb is the thing.

HELEN BUDD — A Flower

To one who has a passion
For flowers bright and fair,
We hope she sets the fashion,
By wearing this one in her hair.

SYLVIA CIABURRI — Pencil Sharpener

Who always wants a sharp pencil?
Who always wants it quick?
It's none other than a girl named Syl,
This sharpener will do the trick.

CLARA CUTLER — Whisk Broom

To Clara, who is always worried
Just how her dress does look,
We give this nifty whisk broom
To hang on a convenient hook.

MARY DONOVAN — A Roll of Hairpins

Somebody's always worrying
About how to do her hair,
This little roll of hairpins,
Will make her look très fair.

ALICE ELLIS — Mixing Spoon

When you become a cook,
Who doesn't have to use a book,
This gift is given to you to make
The finest choice of pies and cake.

ALMA FISHER — Box of Rouge

To keep your cheeks red,
To keep them so bright,
This rouge we present you,
To give you delight.

ANGELINA GIUSTI — Writing Pad

This pad will be handy;
This pad will be nice.
When you write the data,
Of all your trained mice.

ELIZABETH GIUSTI — Picture of Movie Star

Elizabeth Giusti adores movie stars
Just to see one she would travel far,
She knows all their lives and history,
So I'll give her this picture in my giftory.

FLORENCE GONNEVILLE — Wave Set

To keep your hair wavy,
To give it a sheen.
This wave set of quality
Will surely make it gleam.

HILDA HAEGELE — Book on Charm

For one who is shy
We knew what to buy,
A book full of tales
On how to charm the males.

LEO HARRINGTON — Fire Engine

We'd give you Frates Dairy,
We'd give you a walking doll;
But this funny little plaything,
Just suits you best of all.

LOUISE HATCH — Machine

When far away from home,
And your auto refuses to roam
Don't walk a mile with a can!
Use this car, it's a good plan.

BERNICE HOPE — Memorandum

It's a good thing to remember
Where to be and at what time,
So this little memorandum,
Will get all your dates in line.

HOLMES HURLL — Paint Brush

It's very proper, I am sure,
To give this brush to Hurll,
To paint the scenes of woodland lure
And the colors of a pearl.

POLA KAMOULAS — Rosin

Pola is a violinist,
A fine one too at that,
This little piece of rosin
Won't make the notes sound flat.

FRANCES LIVESLEY — Nail Polish

To make your nails shiny,
To make your nails neat,
This polish we give you;
We know it can't be beat.

ANNA MEDINA — Game

Whenever you've time to waste,
Whenever you've time to spare,
Just take out this little game
Of everything else you'll become unaware.

ELSIE MORRISON — Blonde Rinse

Anytime you'd like to change
The color of your hair,
Use this blondex rinse;
It will make you very fair.

ELIZA MOURRA — Walking Pelican

To keep your dimples nifty,
To keep your dimples neat,
We give you this to laugh at,
For you to give others a treat.

THELMA PAINE — Darning Needle

To help you in your future life,
When you become a gentle wife,
Take out this needle, think of me,
And all good times that used to be.

HELEN PECK — Man Doll

Another man! Another beau!
Isn't he a handsome sight?
To Helen Peck he's going to go,
We all know boys are her delight.

MADELINE ROBINSON — Lipstick

To one who is dainty,
To one who is neat,
This lipstick is given,
To make her more sweet.

ANNETTE SHAPIRO — Lawn Seed

We all have heard how Annette,
By crossing lawns, with disapproval has been met.
We give her this lawnseed to scatter in her wake,
And then her poor knees won't have to shake.

MARION SHARPLES — 'Cello

Marion is our 'cellist;
Her playing is surely fine,
Her music we do relish,
It goes to our head like wine.

PHYLLIS SMITH — Rattle

There is a girl named Phyllis Smith;
She's always filled with joys,
And everywhere that Phyllis goes
There's sure to be some noise.

MARGARET SULLIVAN — Rolling Pin

When you become ferocious,
That is, when your a wife,
This gift is "allagocious"
To settle family strife.

OLIVE SYLVIA — Ruler

To Olive who in geometry
Did have such awful times
We give this little ruler,
To draw some good straight lines.

CAROLINE TEIXEIRA — Harmonica

To sound the pitch when needed,
This gift we give to you,
But remember the whole class pleaded,
Please don't use it in a zoo.

MARION TRIPP — Bottle of Lotion

To keep that school girl complexion,
To give you that certain charm,
This gift of choice selection,
Will keep your skin from harm.

DOROTHY VINING — Tennis Ball

To one who loves sports,
This tennis ball we give.
To use on good courts,
As long as she lives.

ELIZABETH SPOONER — Joke Book

To one who has a comeback
For everything that's said,
We give this brand new joke book
And then she'll be well read.

Commercial Course

By BELLA FRIEDBERG

RAYMOND ATWOOD and HENRY SULLIVAN — Friendship Chain

For Ray and Heine, the two staunch pals
I give this little token
And in the many years to come
May it hold their friendship unbroken.

HENRY BACKUS — Public Speaking Book

A book on public speaking
Is just the thing one uses
When contemplating his speeches
And the nature of his issues.

PAULINE BANKS — Football

For you football always seemed to hold
An ever increasing delight
That's the reason you're getting this gift
To keep forever within your sight.

GORDON BARITEAU — Bird

Your name reminds me of a singer
Though funny it may seem
That's why I've given you a birdie
So that you may hear it sing.

HAROLD BARTON — Wheelbarrow

When you wish to call upon your girl friend
To take her for a ride
Ask her if she'll jump into your wheelbarrow
And sit by your side.

HELEN BELISLE — Box of Hairpins

An extra box of hairpins
Won't do any harm
By keeping up your hair
It will add to your charm.

PAULINE BELLENOIT — Rattle

You certainly aren't the most quiet
But then you're not so loud
That's why I've given you this rattle
To make you heard above the crowd.

RAYMOND BERGERON — Freckle Lotion

Freckles are not a sign of beauty
So I've heard the experts say
So you get busy on this lotion
Then all your freckles will fade away.

MILLICENT BOARDMAN — Megaphone

Use this little megaphone
When you begin to speak
To show your many friends
That you are not so meek.

HOWARD BOLDUC — Rag Doll

If you should ever get tired
Of throwing footballs around
Here is something softer
And it doesn't make a sound.

ADRIENNE BONIN — Needle and Thread

"Oo, a run in my new stockings!"
That's what you've been heard to say
So, here, for you, is a needle and some thread
It will sometime prove to save the day.

MAURICE BRAGA — Girl Doll

This little girl says she'll be faithful
To a boy as nice as you
And that is saying quite a bit
For this she means to do.

SHERWOOD BRIGHTMAN — Rake

To tend your country farm
And make the potatoes grow
Use this handy rake
And great profits you will show.

MARGARET BROWN — Mr. Goodbar

"I love Mr. Goodbars, Mr. Goodbars, Mr. Goodbars."
Drifts through your incessant chatter
So eat this big Mr. Goodbar
Let's hope it makes you no fatter.

JEANETTE CHANDLER — Wooden Necklace

When it comes to necklaces
Your luck is none too good
But then I thought that this might keep
As it is made of wood.

LLOYD CHASE — Cough Drops

If a cold should settle in your throat
There's no need to be alarmed
For Smith's dependable cough drops
Are made to keep any cough calmed.

CAROLINE L. COSTA — Painter's Pallet

A painter's pallet for you
Seemed quite the appropriate thing
A good advantage it will always be
And not a bit of trouble will it bring.

PAULINE CROTEAU — Cook Book

When you get married
And wish to make hubby some pie
You will surely be an expert cook
If you use this little book.

BERTHA CRYER — Compact

As you are getting ready
To go out on a date
Use this little compact
And you'll soon learn your fate.

JACK CUSTODIO — Curling Iron

Jackie's hair is curly
Which is quite the rage, they say
So here's a curling iron
To always keep it that way.

ROBERT DAFFINEE — Lollypop

I thought real hard about what you'd like
And wondered if it would do
Were I to go into a store
And buy a lollypop for you.

RAYMOND DAVIS — Banjo

If your voice should fail you
While serenading your girl
Use this banjo as a sub
Then her heart will surely twirl.

JULIA DEASY — Bottle of Medicine

Your main ambition, I hear
Is to become a nurse
So here's a bottle of medicine
For your patients when they're feeling worse.

OLGA DEDOPULOUS — Powder Puff

The beauty experts have not decreed
That a shiny nose is the fad
Their prescription is just one light pat
The result, of which, will make you glad.

HENRY DEPTULA — Ruler

This twelve inch ruler
Will help you in your strife
To measure and weigh your distance
Upon that long path called Life.

KATHLEEN DOWNEY — Rolling Pin

If you marry one of those husbands
Who just love to stay out late
Show him this rolling pin
And he won't go near the gate.

WALLACE DOWNHILL — Joke Book

If the inevitable should ever happen
And you become quite blue
Just glance through this little joke book.
It will make you feel quite new.

EVERETT ESTRELLA — Necklace

Everett has a girl we know
To whom he gives pretty things
I wonder if she'd like this necklace
Among the many other things.

HELEN FELL — Whistle

When you are feeling lonesome
And don't know what to do
Just blow on this little whistle
It goes like this—too, too!

ELLSWORTH FRICKER — Telephone

A telephone is just the thing
When you are feeling blue
So give your girl a little ring
And she'll be right with you.

LAURA GAUTREAU — Yeast Cake

Here is a little yeast cake
Containing the three essential things
Called PEP, VIM, and VIGOR
Which help to do big things.

NORMAN GOMES — Saber

A gift for you 'twas hard to find
And as I looked around
I thought of the position that you had held
And was sure this would suit you fine.

EDWARD HALL — Baseball Bat

I'm giving you this baseball bat
To use in your games
When you play on Clark's Cove
And are watched by all the dames.

BERNARD HARDING — Bed

Sometimes you've probably wished you had
A bed to lie upon
So I've done my best to grant that wish
Here's hoping you rest through dawn.

EVELYNE HOPE — Ball

Now that your school days are over
There'll be no more studying to do
And so you will have ample time
To give this ball a bounce or two.

MARY HUBER — Stockings

If you're a girl who worries
About whether your stockings will wear
Your worries can be ended immediately
For this kind will never tear.

IDA HURWITZ — Report Card

Ida, you are so very smart
And are always getting A's
So here's a good report card
A reminder of your school days.

MARY HYLAND — Diary

I bet you have loads of love affairs
That you never talk about
Why not write them in this diary
And your secrets will never come out.

GRACE JACKSON — Tiny Dictionary

This tiny dictionary is probably the answer
To many of your difficult problems
That ask for a word or two
Which seem just overwhelming to you.

HARRY JACKSON — Oar

Rowing along upon the sea
Your oar may break in two
Then you'll have need for another one
And this is the one that will do

PHYLLIS JASON — Style Book

This very modern style book
Has all the fashions you'll need
For your new aviatrix costumes that you'll use
In doing a great many deeds.

EVELYN JENNINGS — Puzzle

I've seen you gaze around vainly
For something of interest to do
This puzzle can fulfill your wishes
With results that are very true.

STATIA KALISZEWSKA — Dog

Girls always need protection
That's what this dog is for
If you keep him always by your side
You won't be afraid any more.

ALLEN P. KEITH, JR. — Package of Gum

I thought there'd be a possibility
Of your gum supply becoming low
And bought a package of Juicy Fruit
Which you're sure to like, I know.

HAROLD KENYON — Calendar

This calendar will help you
To keep track of all the days
Whose dates often confused you
And kept you in a daze.

HARRY KENYON — Law Terms

This is to remind you of your law class
And all the tricks you played
Which has often made me wonder
How you ever passed the grade.

ANNIE LADETTO — Manicure Set

If your nails are polished bright
And are made to look real neat
You'll have nothing more to worry about
As all the boys will be at your feet.

RONALD LAWTON — Ring

You probably have a girl friend
As most high school boys do
And should you wish to enter matrimony
This is the thing that will do.

EDWIN LEA — Pen

A pen is always useful
In any walk of life
To write a letter or make a note
Or as a gift to your wife.

ROSE LEMOS — Gun

This gun is for protection
While walking on lonely streets
When everything is dark and quiet
And the officers are off their beats.

CONSTANCE LETENDRE — Tool Kit

Should your car refuse to move
Way out on some lonely road
Just use this nifty kit
To fix it bit by bit.

SOPHIE LINDER — Clock

Because you're always in a hurry
To make the bell at eight
Keep this little reminder
So you never will be late.

NATHLIE LINDGREN — Hope Chest

Take this little hope chest
And do what most girls do
Just hope and hope all day long
And your dreams will soon come true.

ELEANOR LUCHETTI — Candy Kisses

I know it is provoking
To be always kissed by boys
So I've given you a different kind
That won't make any noise.

FRANCES McCARTHY — Candle

Light this little candle
As you look around
For all your misplaced articles
Which are sure to be found.

DOROTHY McDERMOTT — Lux Soap

Lux Toilet Soap is what most celebrities use
At least that's what the advertisements say
So why don't you try this little bar
The results, I'm certain, to you will pay.

HELEN McINTYRE — Box of Powder

This little gift might prove real useful
In hiding those tell-tale blushes
Which I'm sure are quite provoking
While approaching one of your crushes.

LORETTA McGREGOR — Roller Skates

Jim's car seems quite safe
But then one can never know
So, if anything should occur
You'll be all ready to go.

ELLERY MACOMBER — Bottle of Glue

A bottle of glue for Ellery
Who wiggles in his chair
Now don't err some morning
And use it on your hair.

STANLEY MASTEY — Sailboat

If you desire peace and solitude
Away from the thronging crowds
Take this firm, strong sailboat
To sail beneath the beautiful clouds.

GRACE MESSIER — Date Book

Here's a little reminder
For Grace's many dates
May it help her in the future
To keep her from being late.

ADELA MICHALSKA — Box of Rouge

If your pink cheeks should chance to fade
Until they become quite pale
Use this pretty box of rouge
I've heard it will never fail.

MARY MONIZ — Memory Book

When you are far away
From good old New Bedford High
Open this little memory book
To help your sighs go by.

HELEN MORRIS — Shoe Horn

If customers at Teddy's
Think their shoes don't fit just right
Try using this little shoe horn
And then their shoes won't feel so tight.

MARGARET MOSHER — Heart

Should one of your many boy friends
Steal your heart away
Use this to replace it
And things will again be gay.

FLORENCE MOSS — Flower

When you get married
Flowers there may not be
So save this pretty flower
To wear on your gown of organdie

FREDA NAVINSKY — Luck Charm

As you are searching for a job
Along the Great White Way
Keep this charm within your pocket
And loads of luck will come your way.

JULIA NEMETH — Pair of Shears

When your hair becomes too long
And you want to cut an inch or two
Have this pair of shears on hand
It will help you in your job to do.

EURYDICE OLIVEIRA — Package of Tea

When your friends gather at your home
To keep you company
Put the kettle on the stove
And serve them with a cup of tea.

STANLEY PALYS — Hammer

If you desire to build a house
The nails the wood will hold
Push them in with this strong hammer
And you'll never feel the cold.

VIOLA PATNAUDE — History Book

This little history book
Thinks it's being neglected
And wants to always have Someone to keep it protected.

MILDRED PERRY — Pearls

I know that you like your jewelry
To be the best there is
So I walked into Woolworth's Five & Ten
And for you, to wear, bought this.

DONALD PIERCE — Boxing Glove

Should Jack Sharkey need a double
For one of his notorious fights
Grab this dandy boxing glove
And darken your opponent's "lights".

KATHERINE PLACE — Bell

You probably remember the nursery rhyme
That told why pussy wore her bell
So if you do the same thing too
Your approach will be easy to tell.

KATHRYN POWERS — Earrings

To you I give these earrings
They are the cutest things
They match the color of your eyes
Which look as blue as the skies.

GERTRUDE POULIN — Spade

This little spade is what to use
In golddigging from the men
If you begin with them one by one
You'll have denominations greater than ten.

ETHEL PUNCHARD — Blondex

Your hair is such a pretty hue
That we give this gift to you
For the time that may come
When you may have need for some.

LILLIAN RAPAPORT — Boy Doll

You're rather clever, you know
In holding all your men
So I'm giving you another
To lure into your den.

ETHELIND RICKETSON — Ford Car

To keep up with the Joneses
Who have everything, you know
This Ford car is just the thing
And I'm sure that it will go.

ARTHUR SANTOS — Tire

Art is our school chauffeur
So therefore we must provide
For the tires that get flat
As we are starting on a ride.

STANLEY SCHICK — Coffin

I've heard it whispered round the school
Of the work you intend to do
And I tried to think of what might be
Of the greatest use to you.

JEANNIE SHIELDS — Candy

Because you are so small and so petite
You deserve something really sweet
This tasty candy answers the bill
And you may eat as much as you will.

RAYMOND SMITH — Airplane

This little plane will take you flying.
Away up above the clouds
From it you may look upon the cities
And watch the passing crowds.

CHARLOTTE SOULE — Cat

I don't know what you expected
But I do know what you'll get
Now take good care of her
For she'll prove a useful pet.

GEORGE SPRAGUE — Car

To call upon your best girl
I give you this little car
It will take you to her home
If it should be very far.

RALPH SULLIVAN — Hershey Almond

If you should become hungry
And want some candy to eat
Try this Hershey Almond
I know it can't be beat.

JANE SYPEK — Red Tie

A big red tie for a pretty girl
Would look very nice on you
It is guaranteed not to run
And to keep this same, beautiful hue.

AGNES TAKACH — Pan

When you get married
And cook your hubby's meals
Use this cooking pan
To make him some veal.

ERNEST TAVARES — Comb

To control your unruly hair
I give this comb to you
If you will always use it
Then you'll be handsome too.

MARIAN THOMPSON — Ham Sandwich

It has been whispered to me from many sources
About your great desire for food
And so I bought a sandwich and hoped
That it'd make you feel real good.

EDWARD TWAROG — Soccer Ball

You've taken part in many sports
Your soccer being outstanding
You kicked the ball with all your might
And gained a perfect standing.

EVANGELINE VIDAL — Painting Set

You never seem dissatisfied
With anything you get
So I took a chance and bought you this
It's just a painting set.

MARION WALLACE — Frying Pan

The prophet has fashioned you as a cook
Which gave to me this cue
That you would need some sort of utensil
For the cooking you are to do.

RUTH WALLACE — Powder Puff

To Ruth I give a powder puff
So that every place she goes
She'll have this little bit of fluff
To keep the shine from her nose.

RAYMOND WARD — Bright Tie

When you wear this flashy tie
You surely will be the rage
The girls will come from near and far
While you seek refuge in a cage.

JEANETTE WHITE — Hair Ribbon

This very big blue ribbon
Would look lovely on your hair
It's a pretty match to your eyes of blue
And your skin that is so fair.

WILLIAM WHITE — Clothes Line

Although you may have a good line
That makes the girls all fall
You're apt to run into a shortage
And it would be too bad, that's all.

DORIS WHITWORTH — Whistle

Doris, you are such a quiet child
And you seldom make a sound
So to you I give this whistle
That will echo round and round.

ROSE WIEGENFELD — Ballyhoo

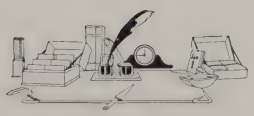
When your dishes have been washed
And your work is all complete
Sit down to read this witty book
Its stories are unique.

DOROTHY and THERESA WOLLISON — Candy

Sweets to the sweet is what they say
And that's what both of you are
Now oh, my dears, don't look so alarmed
For I've given you each a bar.

ANNIE ZIMON — Dime

As you are the last on my list
For whom I must write a rhyme
I want to show my appreciation
By giving you this new dime.



Giftory of the Giftorians

EARL CURTIS — Diary

Some day when you are old and gray
You'll want to look over your high school days
Put down some things as they come along
And your tales to your grand children won't be wrong.

ELIZABETH RADCLIFFE — Bell

When in far future days
You are a teacher fine
And the pupils are too gay,
This bell will order find.

PEARL BILSKY — Symbol

When you embark upon your career
In the famous Cape Cod colony
Will you gaze upon this symbol of light
That inspired you to such a great height.

BELLA FRIEDBERG — Donkey

As one to another let's have some fun
I'm sure we deserve it now that this is done
I'll give you a kick and you'll give me one
Is that what you would call having some fun?

PROPHECY

Prophecy of the Class of June, 1932

Prologue

Now, listen fellow students
Don't take these rhymes to heart,
Be merry and be jolly
Be sure to play your part.

Cheer up, let's all be happy,
All laughter and no tears,
And wishing you, yes, one and all,
Success in coming years.

Classical Course

By BERTHA HORVITZ

ANNA G. BEVERIDGE

Anna is quite bashful
And also very shy,
But now I see her married
To a "Regular guy."

BERNICE P. BIGELOW

Away down south in Haiti
A classmate I do see,
Into her eager students' heads
Bernice drills History.

PEARL BILSKY

An artist rare is Pearl—
Among the country's best,
Her works are recognized by all,
She's known from East to West.

PHILIP BRONSPIEGEL

Phil will be a doctor,
And treat the people's ills;
But Phil says he will get a treat
If they will pay their bills.

RUTH B. CAIN

Ruthie is the smallest
In our class, you know,
Now she's the tallest woman
In the circus show.

LILLY E. CARTIER

Lilly has the diamonds,
And the auto, too—
Now she's looking for a man
To give this fortune to.

MASON ELLIS CHACE

Mason's always buying tickets
For a dance or two,
Now he's giving tickets free,
He's a cop on the Avenue.

ELEANOR COLLINS

In social functions, Eleanor
Is always on the go—
Attending balls and meetings,
And pouring tea, you know.

PRESTON CUNNINGHAM

As we hail a passing taxi
To avoid the traffic jam,
We gaze at our reckless chauffeur
Guess who? It's Cunningham.

ALVARO DUARTE

Al was one of our football stars
And honor students too—
Whatever course you undertake,
Here's lots of luck to you!

BEATRICE L. FINE

To one so quiet and so meek,
We find it hard to tell
Just what the future is going to be,
But, Bea, we wish you well.

ESTHER FONTES

When anyone speaks of Mary's deeds
Esther fills with pride,
So Esther'll be an old maid, too,
And knit by Mary's side.

MILTON GELLER

Milton's a polished career
Selling bargains galore,
He's making lots of money
Running a furniture store.

RUTH GIBSON

Ruthie runs a beauty shoppe
And makes old faces new,
We'll all go there for treatments,
A wave, or a shampoo.

MOSES M. GOLDBERG

For Moses of staunch arguments
I see but one true course,
To hasten from his wife to Reno
And argue for divorce.

MORRIS GREENSTEIN

For hard and brawny Morris
I have a real strange hunch
That he will be a boxer
With a mighty punch.

HILDA HARTMAN

In nursing as a profession
Our Hilda holds full sway.
She stands above a cradle
And rocks it all the day.

GEORGE HEMPHILL

"Ding" the once so famous athlete
Walks with manly stride
Down the renowned aisle of fate
On his arm—the blushing bride!

DOROTHY HICKS

"Hixie" asked her dad for
A job with lots of whirls,
She now has the Standard column
"My True Advice To Girls."

ADA JACKSON

Our plump little Ada Jackson
Though only in her teens
Is making an honest living
Selling reducing machines.

IRWIN JASLOW

In Spain we find a Senor
A-Strolling down the road,
Playing sweet Spanish music
On the way to his sweetie's abode.

CHARLOTTE JENNEY

Charlotte, our first violinist,
Will have no trouble at all
In entertaining hundreds
In Boston Symphony Hall.

ELLEN LANGTON

For one so smart as Ellen
We'll have to prophecy
That she will be successful
At whate'er she may try.

MILDRED A. MANLEY

In all her History classes
This maiden tried and tried,
Now she's a History teacher,
"Believe it or not"—she sighed.

MARY MANNING

Another quiet student
Who seldom makes a noise
Will give out many playthings
To the poor girls and boys.

ROBERT MOORE

Bob, the well dressed schoolboy,
Bob, the dapper lad,
Bob, the movie actor,
Bob creates the fad.

HELEN MORIARTY

Helen's future is very dim
I only see her past,
But I have just a bit of advice—
Please don't talk so fast!

MARY F. MURPHY

In honors Mary always stood
Among the foremost rank,
She got herself a mighty man—
He's the Teller in the Bank.

RUTH NIELD

Ruth, so tall and dignified,
To London town did go
To marry to an English Duke—
Bah Jove—and ah—What Ho!

EVELYN NIMMO

In running of the Rainbow
Our Evvie did hold sway,
And now she rules another,
Yes! He's from the DeMolay.

JOSEPH W. NORMILE

I see a former schoolmate
Strolling down a lane,
A very dapper fellow—
A derby and a cane!

GEORGE OTIS, JR.

"Doone Junior" roams through grassy fields
Gazing at the skies,
Mouth wide open, net in hand—
He's catching butterflies.

HENRY PERRY, JR.

Our Henry, once so thin and weak,
Is tall and broad and slim,
He's advertising a build-up tonic,
And tells how it changed him!

LOUISE H. PIERCE

Louise is full of fun
And has one aim to try,
Of course, you've gone and guessed it—
To hit the big bull's eye.

ELEANOR RICHARDSON

But one desire has "Skinny"
She tackles it with vim,
She's jumping rope continually
To make her tall and slim.

CYNTHIA ROBBINS

Cynthia you will find in Paris,
So jolly and so gay,
Trying to make the waiter
"Comprendre son français."

MIRIAM SARGEANT

To one so smart and clever,
We proclaim but this:
A key of Phi Beta Kappa,
And a life of joy and bliss.

HELEN SCHICK

For one so quiet and so sweet,
It was an easy test
To find a Handsome Husband,
A garden, and love nest.

JENNIE SHOWSKY

Jennie went to Europe
A Stowaway?—oh! no!
And now in mind she ponders,
"Where else is there to go?"

MYER SHUSTER

I thought and thought for hours
To choose your propheey,
At last I knew our "brick top"
Would sail the deep blue sea.

LOUISE M. SYLVIA

Louise's voice I know, for sure,
Has charmed us, one and all,
And on the famous opera stage
Men's hearts she will enthrall.

RUDOLPH TOMKOWICZ

Rudy's on the Standard
And just by using his fist—
Of course, he didn't pick a fight!
He's now their comic cartoonist.

MARTHA WILDE

For one so undecided
I cannot propheey,
But Martha wants to marry—
Won't some young man apply?

BENJAMIN WISHNIETSKY

Quiet and clever is Benny
And shrewd as one can be,
A lawyer, or judge, or teacher,
Is Benny's propheey.

MARY E. WYGRZYWALSKA

Alone in the woods in a cottage
We find our talkative Mary,
With two significant comrades,
The famous cat and canary.

ARNOLD MICHELSON

Arnold is a tailor
He sews and cuts with vim,
When'er you want a suit made,
Be sure and go to him.

SAMUEL GALVAM

Sam will not tap a telegraph wire,
Nor tap a bottle cork,
Yet he'll do some first rate tapping
To the "Sidewalks of New York"

HELEN KOCZERA

At high school she was modest,
But now she's over that,
You see she s on the Broadway stage
Where modesty is flat.

Commercial Course

By RAYMOND BERGERON

RAY ATWOOD

Ray we'll send to Hollywood
To play the Singing Fool.
And when they hear his golden voice
Rudy'll go back to school.

HENRY BACKUS

Henry as a reporter
Will get the latest news,
And in all mystery cases
He'll be first to grab the clues.

PAULINE BANKS

Our Polly soon will married be,
A home she'll have and babies three.
Her hubby is sure to be short and stout—
Just watch that family when they step out!

GORDON BARITEAU

Gordon's trade is selling land
To all the city fools,
He keeps his trade in remote spots
Mostly sunk in pools.

HAROLD BARTON

Harold's selling ladies' stockings
In a down-town store.
And when the ladies buy from him
They always come back for more.

HELEN BELISLE

Helen wanted to be a stenographer
Until she met this fellow.
And now she's living a life
That is sweet, rich and mellow.

PAULINE BELLENOIT

When in search of information
Go to Pauline, the Librarian,
She will give you facts about anything
Be it Grecian or Hungarian.

MILLICENT BOARDMAN

A nursemaid will our Milly be
For good little boys and girls,
She'll teach them well their A B C's
And take the snarls from out their curls.

HOWARD BOLDUC

Coaching the High School football team
Would make our "Howie" happy.
He'd keep them strong and well in trim
And keep our record clean, by cracky!

ADRIENNE BONIN

The latest styles in hats
By Adrienne will be created,
Her trade will grow and grow and grow—
In fact, it'll never be abated.

MAURICE BRAGA

In a harem "Mush" we'll find
Surrounded by maidens fair,
There'll be Ritas, Reginas, and others there
Smoothing back his "Slikumed" hair.

SHEROD BRIGHTMAN

You will keep up the family trade
And use paint of the highest grade,
You'll paint houses, barns, and sheds
In brightest yellows, blues, and reds.

MARGARET BROWN

I've racked my brain, and torn my hair
Trying to think of how "Peggy" will fare
In this great world of sorrow and strife,
I've got it! She'll be "Jimmie's" wife!

JEANETTE CHANDLER

Many a wave you will set,
And much "dough" you will get,
And many a customer will come back
To have their waves reset.

LLOYD CHASE

Lloyd will be a principal
In a city school,
He'll make the kids toe the mark
And follow the golden rule.

CAROLINE L. COSTA

There are hands that rock the cradle,
There are hands that music play,
Your hands will grace a painter's brush—
Your art the world will sway.

PAULINE CROTEAU

Pauline will fall in love
With a man six feet tall,
And when he gets angry with her
He'll use her for a football.

BERTHA CRYER

Bert's the future woman champ
Tennis is the game,
In Helen's style she'll put a cramp
And win her way to fame.

JACK CUSTODIO

You'll find him in a circus show
Keeping animals on the go,
Training the monks and hypos, too,
That one and one equals two.

ROBERT DAFFINEE

A judge most noble and most wise
Our Robert is sure to be,
But if a classmate before him is brought
I wonder what his verdict will be?

RAYMOND E. DAVIS

Ray will go to a warmer clime
Where folks do nothing but sleep.
He'll wrap himself in mosses green
And snore eight days a week.

HENRY DEPTULA

Have you heard the latest?
Count Deptula is in town!
Who'd have guessed this quiet lad
Would ever gain such wide renown.

KATHLEEN DOWNEY

To a far and distant land
Our Kathleen will sail,
There she'll live in solitude
In some sleepy dale.

WALLACE J. DOWNHILL

A gay cabalero is Wally,
Especially when "femmes" are around,
One by one he spurns them all
As some new "dame" is found.

EVERETT ESTRELLA

"General Estrella" our Everett will be
And lead his armies to victory,
Then each eve he'll celebrate
With "wine, women, and song."

HELEN FELL

Our Helen is a quiet lass,
We've hardly heard her speak,
She's sure to get employment
Teaching the mice to squeak.

ELLSWORTH FRICKER

Many a car will Ellsworth sell
Old as well as new,
His line of talk will get you all
Even you and you.

BELLA FRIEDBERG

Two and two make only four
Never any less, never any more,
Bella'll teach that to kiddies wee—
A first-grade teacher is what she'll be.

LAURA GAUTREAU

Theatres, dances, and parties,
Are beyond our Laura's reach,
For she has travelled to India
The cute little Hindoos to teach.

NORMAN GOMES

Out from 'neath the baggage car
A ragged tramp appears,
It can't be—it is!—Norman!
Our classmate of yesteryears.

EDWARD HALL

Over the deep blue sea he sails
Bravely breasting the waves and gales
A "Jack Tar" will our Eddie be,
And in every port—Maidens three.

BERNARD HARDING

Bernard's Matrimonial Bureau
Will start you right in life
If you're a lonesome bachelor
He'll find for you a wife.

ELVENE HOPE

Elvene's an old man's darling
But love's the truest cause
Young men simply bored her
So she married "Santa Claus."

MARY HUBER

A nurse is our sweet Mary
She deals out pills and such
Her patients all do love her
She helps them all so much.

IDA HURWITZ

A court stenog will Ida be
Who'll take her notes with accuracy
She'll vamp a lawyer, we are sure,
And then she'll take notes no more.

MARY HYLAND

In a shop on Purchase Street,
Our Mary you will see;
She'll sell you rouge and powder
As well as perfumery.

GRACE JACKSON

Grace loved peace and solitude
All the live-long day,
But once she got started
She turned out the "other way."

HARRY JACKSON

In a black-frock coat and tie
Making a pious picture,
Our Harry will quietly spend his day
Reading the Holy Scripture.

PHYLLIS JASON

Phyllis will go in for dramatics
She's sure to be a success,
Her name will shine on old Broadway
At the head of all the rest.

EVELYN JENNINGS

Evelyn's changed a great deal
Since she left this school of ours,
Now instead of borrowing coin
She's loaning it by the hours.

STATIA KALISZEWSKA

Taking notes day by day
Never makes our Statia cross,
Because she knows at the end of the day
She'll go out stepping with her boss.

ALLEN KEITH

Allen is now digging coal
For a local company,
How he got in such a hole
Is still a mystery.

HAROLD KENYON

Harold has great political ability
Of which we never knew
Until he laid before us, facts,
Of all the things he could do.

HARRY KENYON

When Harry left our school
Few knew what he would do.
For he established a business,
His line is billiards and pool.

ANNIE LADETTO

Annie's married an Indian
And lives way out in the west,
She makes her hubby wear trousers
And patches them with his vest.

RONALD LAWTON

We thought he'd be an undertaker
But ours is disappointment,
For he turned out a casket-maker
And waits for our appointment.

EDWIN LEA

"Eddie" was such a classy, young sheik
That he married Adela inside of a week,
Now hands her his pay each Saturday night
In order to keep from having a fight.

ROSE LEMOS

Rose set out in her car one day
To think over her career,
But she bumped into a passing train
And married Arthur, the engineer.

CONSTANCE LETENDRE

"Connie" Letendre, as we hear,
Will be a dietician;
Who knows, perhaps she'll fall in love
And wed a rich physician.

SOPHIE LINDER

We expected great things of Sophie
But she's given us quite a shock,
Instead of being an opera singer
She's janitress in an apartment block.

NATALIE LINDGREN

Boys were Nat's weakness
Without them there was no success,
She opened a school for handsome young men
And now has her choice of the best.

ELEANOR LUCHETTI

Eleanor can surely tickle a uke
Some day, we think, she'll capture a Duke,
She went to Hawaii, wore a grass skirt,
And turned out to be a cute little flirt.

FRANCES McCARTHY

Frances, the one who loved to fool,
Has finally become a lady,
You see, she has to stay at home
And mind her little baby.

DOROTHY McDERMOTT

You should see our "Dottie" now
With drops of sweat upon her brow,
For spaghetti she serves in Italian fashion
In cap and apron she looks quite dashin'.

HELEN McINTYRE

Our Helen is a stenographer
Of the greatest reputation,
Her boss says there's none better,
She sure is a star at dictation.

LORETTA McGREGOR

Loretta is now a poetess
And weilds a wicked pen,
Her poems are sent to editors
Who send them all back again.

ELLERY MACOMBER

If to the country you should stray
And gaze at the landscape calm,
You'll see our Ellery holding sway
Over his up-to-date farm.

STANLEY MASTEY

Got a headache? Call our Stanley,
He's a mechanic now,
Can he use his instruments?
We'll say, "And How!"

GRACE MESSIER

If "Gracie" tries to set the fad
For the very latest bob,
She'll not have any left to clip
But a wig will do the job.

ADELA MICHALSKA

There is a cottage in the West
Where two sweet souls reside,
Of course, it's "Adele" and her "Eddie",
Soon Junior with them will abide.

MARY MONIZ

Mary of late, is occupied
Getting her hopechest ready,
For, as she blushingly admits,
She's engaged to her "steady".

HELEN MORRIS

In this world there is a man
Who waits for a girl like you,
And when he sees your kindly face
No others will he view.

MARGARET MOSHER

"Peggy" as everyone knows,
Is up-to-date in the matter of clothes,
In her creations she looks so chic
She'll grab a hubby remarkably quick.

FLORENCE MOSS

Florence, a most engaging miss,
Has put her charms to use,
Teaching old fat women
To look pretty and reduce.

FREDA NAVINSKY

A hot-dog stand will Freda grace
All her very own;
And when the dogs begin to burn
You will hear her moan.

JULIA NEMETH

Candy-making is Julia's line
She uses ingredients pure and fine,
If by chance to her shop you stray
For her candy, you'll dearly pay.

EURYDICE OLIVEIRA

Eurydice has oodles of money
She married a millionaire;
She gets it all in alimony
From a hubby who gave her the air.

STANLEY PALYS

Stanley's gone in for golf
In fact, he's a regular "Pro",
If you're interested in the game
To him you should go.

MILDRED PERRY

As history teacher, our "Milly" will be a suc-
For that was her best subject at school; cess
She'll tell you of Pilgrims and all the rest
And teach you the Golden Rule.

DONALD PIERCE

Donald's a big manufacturer
Cotton is his line;
He's rid us of the depression
Now everything is fine.

KATHERINE PLACE

Ever so shy and retiring
Our "Kitty" has always been;
But now she's hiring and firing
In an exclusive inn.

KATHRYN POWERS

Kathryn is a modiste
With stores in several towns,
She sells the latest Paris modes
In ladies' coats and gowns.

GERTRUDE POULIN

The worries of the business world
Trouble not our Gertrude's mind,
For she's a happy housewife
Of the very best kind.

ETHEL PUNCHARD

Dan Cupid shot our Ethel
And stole away the "Miss",
She now is called the "Mrs. Dyer"
And lives a life of bliss.

LILLIAN RAPAPORT

Gowns by Lillian are now the rage
Her latest creations grace every stage,
In her establishment in gay Paree
She deftly decides what the fashion will be.

ETHELIND RICKETSON

Ethelind had a love for pups
As everybody knows,
Now she's one of the judges
In one of the best dog shows.

ARTHUR SANTOS

Arthur wanted to be an engineer
It was his long-cherished wish,
And now to round out his career
He's got Rose to fry his fish.

RAYMOND SMITH

When'er the circus comes to town
Hot-dogs will be easily found;
For "Ray" the mustard will prepare
And give the "weinies" the shine they wear.

CHARLOTTE SOULE

Talk about these quiet folks
Our class is just full of them;
Our Charlotte will go off to the country
And have nothing to do with men.

GEORGE SPRAGUE

Our "Georgie" is sure chasing the women
Just as he had in days of yore;
Funny, he seems no more able to catch them
Than he was in times before. now

HENRY SULLIVAN

For "Heinie", one of our prominent boys,
Fate will most promising be;
For he and Adeline will get married
And raise children, one, two, three.

RALPH SULLIVAN

Ralph's one of those shieks
Who around drug stores do hang
And makes eyes at femmes, young and coy,
He's the drug store cowboy.

JANE SYPEK

Jane was one of those stylish "Femmes",
She always sets the styles
She now manages a junk shop
Where clothes are heaped in piles.

AGNES TAKACH

Who'd remember Agnes
Who was as quiet as a mouse?
She's now entered Congress
And is speaker of the House.

ERNEST TAVARES

Ernest's got a real job now
In the city zoo;
He feeds cheese chackers to the monkeys
And now and then eats a few.

MARIAN THOMPSON

Per usual, "Tommy" is original,
For I had to look all over town
Before I caught a sight of her—
She's now a circus clown.

EDWARD TWAROG

The future I see for "Eddie",
Is as profitable as it can be;
He's selling the Brooklyn Bridge to hicks
And getting as rich as rich can be.

EVANGELYN VIDAL

Taking in washings will be your task
From morning to night your work will last;
Your hubby will be your sole delight
He'll kindly deliver the washings at night.

MARIAN WALLACE

Love and good cooking go hand in hand
Marian's sure to be a success;
Some day her sweetie will come to dine
And then he'll say, "Wilt thou be mine?"

RUTH WALLACE

Ruth will be a snake charmer
Her pets will never harm her;
If one of them should pull a fit
She soon will get him out of it.

RAYMOND WARD

A thankless job will be your lot
Digging graves in every plot;
Tall or short, fat or thin,
A 6"x4" they'll just fit in.

JEANNETTE WHITE

In some well-known cabaret
Jennie'll dance the hours away,
She'll teach tired business men to prance,
And then with her they'll all romance.

WILLIAM WHITE

He's so darn shy
You'd never have guessed—
Bill's selling lingerie
To the well-dressed miss.

DORIS WHITWORTH

Mr. Hippo will come to you
For a manicure,
You'll polish his nails until they shine,
And all you'll get is a dime.

ROSE WIEGENFELD

You stroll the corridors so slowly
A lady of leisure you'll surely be;
Basking all day in a summer shade
Sipping glasses of lemonade.

DOROTHY and THERESA WOLLISON

You have made us see double
Your lives will be filled with trouble,
Your hubbies, too, will twins be,
And then there'll be twins to eternity.

ANNIE ZIMON

So quiet was our Annie
We never did surmise
She'd write snappy stories
About the dames and guys.

Normal Course

By MARION TRIPP

FLORENCE ABRAMS

Florence is the latest golf champion,
And any sunny day
You may find her at the Country Club
Teaching the younger set to play.

IRENE BARBIERI

Now I see a painting
As lovely as can be,
And as I look more closely
Barbieri is the name I see.

FRANCES BOUCHER

Our Frances,
As a leader of society,
Entertains most lavishly
In her home beside the sea.

FRANCES BROWN

In a wayside tearoom
Along the New England shore,
Frances is serving lunches
That bring her money galore.

HELEN BUDD

Helen's charming winning ways
Have won for her much fame,
As she presides with loving rule
At a girls' school down in Maine.

SYLVIA CIABURRI

Remember Syl who was in our class?
A noted nurse is she,
So when you're feeling terribly ill
Just send for Miss Ciaburri.

CLARA CUTLER

Clara Cutler has gone away
To a town across the sea,
And there she's teaching boys and girls
American history.

MARY DONOVAN

Mary's humorous stories,
The best that one can buy,
Will keep the whole world smiling,
We know the reason why.

ALICE ELLIS

Next I see our Alice,
With cheeks so rosy and bright,
Baking pies and cookies
That would tempt your appetite.

ALMA FISHER

Alma is a member
Of the finest dance team in the world,
She and her partner thrill the crowds
At each dip, twist, and twirl.

ANGELINA GIUSTI

Angelina is a graduate nurse
Who cares for her patients with skill,
And may be depended upon
To give you a smile with a pill.

ELIZABETH GIUSTI

I understand that Elizabeth,
The girl we like so well,
Will soon be selling hot dogs
Along the Cape Canal.

FLORENCE GONNEVILLE

In a quaint old country village
There is a little school
Where Florence Gonneville teaches children
To obey the Golden Rule.

HILDA HAEGELE

Flowers of all sorts and hues
Whatever the occasion may be,
Can be had with ideas to use them
From your florist Miss Haegele.

LEO HARRINGTON

Here is Leo Harrington,
The funniest boy in town,
When Ringling's Circus comes this way
He'll be their leading clown.

LOUISE HATCH

St. Luke's has a new dietitian
None other than our Louise,
She makes such glorious menus
That patients are loath to leave.

BERNICE HOPE

As skipper of a trim little yacht,
Sailing the deep blue sea
Bernice is as happy
As any girl could be.

HOLMES HURLL

In future years if you should wish
Some sculpture large or small,
Just bear in mind Holmes Hurll,
On him be sure to call.

POLA KAMOULAS

While searching thru the records
Of this our city fair,
I find that our friend Pola
Is secretary to the Mayor.

FRANCES LIVESLEY

Each day over the radio
At exactly half past three,
You can learn all about diets
From the dietitian, Miss Livesley.

ANNA MEDINA

Anna is a famous scientist,
And on a mountain slope
Is hunting bits of treasure
With a mighty microscope.

ELSIE MORRISON

Elsie used to drive a Flivver
Until good fortune came her way,
Now she rides in a Rolls Royce
With a chauffeur, so they say.

ELIZA MOURA

Here's a girl who studied hard,
I'm sure you will agree,
She did her best and passed the test,
Now she is a government employee.

THELMA PAINE

As I gaze into the future
I can see a lady fair;
It is Thelma darning stockings,
As she sits in her old arm chair.

HELEN PECK

Here's a lovely little model,
She's surely up to date
You'll see her down in Cherry's,
A perfect fashion plate.

ELIZABETH RADCLIFFE

Elizabeth, a noted alchemist,
Surpassing those of old,
Shouts, "Eureka! At last
I have turned brass into gold."

MADELINE ROBINSON

I see a beauty parlor,
Where all society goes,
Madeline is the proprietor
I want you all to know.

ANNETTE SHAPIRO

Annette taught school for about a year,
She thought the task too great,
But added to her burdens
By picking herself a mate.

MARION SHARPLES

Here's a girl we all adore,
For work she is all bent,
I see her in future years
As secretary to the President.

PHYLLIS SMITH

Next I see Phyllis Smith,
An actress now is she,
Taking the leading roles
In Shakespearian Comedies.

ELIZABETH SPOONER

Libby is swimming instructor
Down at the good old "Y",
There she teaches little girls
The wherefores and the why.

MARGARET SULLIVAN

In an armchair by the fireside,
Margaret Sullivan I see,
She's telling bed-time stories
To the children 'round her knee.

OLIVE SYLVIA

Through quiet corridors and rows of beds,
A nurse does quietly pass,
Looking closely I find it's
None other than Olive, of our class.

CAROLINE TEIXEIRA

Oh, little star of radio
Your voice will fortune bring,
The people will listen from many lands
To hear you sweetly sing.

DOROTHY VINING

In a cozy little cottage
Just large enough for two,
Dot is making biscuits
That Joe can hardly chew.

Scientific Course

By ANDRE H. BRISSE

HERMAN BAPTISTE

Herman is an undertaker
Of manners, style and whit;
He'll have a hearse of beautcous size:
People'll die to ride in it!

CLIFFORD BECK

The office boy is pale-faced,
The typist is in tears,
Chemicals innund the place;
Clif's joined the engineers.

WILLIAM BENJAMIN

Bill will find a job to fill
Where imagination is needed.
As architect he'll cause to build
Mansions that are heeded.

PAUL BONNAR

We never could imagine
Paul as a business man
But nevertheless we wish him
The success of the land.

WALTON BRALEY

Walton is a hero bold
Especially for the women
He drives about in flashy cars
Yes, sir! He's a fireman.

HERBERT DAVIDSON

Well! Well! Well! Where's Herbie?
They say he's quite a shark,
He stands behind a soda fountain
Oh, boy! what a lark.

ARTHUR CABRAL

Arthur always had a way
With animals,—yes, horses.
On his farm we hope he'll stay
Quite happy and remorseless.

ROBERT BOULET

In Bob we find a different trait
That of being different.
As an actor he will make
One with a different temperament.

RUSSELL CARROLL

What's that noise around the block?
Gosh! It's terrible to hear.
A musician has "Goop" become
So this row we have to bear!

ARTHUR COLWELL

People say he's crazy
Because he lives alone
He is a hermit, thus we know
His mind is only hazy.

EARL CURTIS

Look upon that pensive face
Those eyes that are so thoughtful
A professor Earl has become
That's why his name is now so full.

JOHN FONSECA

In his hand he holds a bottle
Filled of amber liquid
Patent medicines now he sells
To he of highest bidding.

CARL FULLER

In splendid uniform we will see
With braid aplenty 'round his chest,
Our Carl who will a general be
And hope he'll please his country best.

JOE GALVAN

Joe's life is spent in livery
Among nobility.
Surely as chauffeur he will show
His great ability.

HERBERT GROSS

Herbert is an author
Aloft from other men
And many wild stories
Result from his famed pen.

JOHN GUNNING

What a salesman John will make
Travelling from place to place,
He will be a boon to housewives
Selling pickles, bologna, and lace.

GORDON HANDLER

Gordon knows his baskets
That we can readily see
He knows his gym baskets so well
That a basket maker he will be.

GEORGE HELLYER

Wherever flowers strike the eye,
In grounds of mansions rich,
There will be found George Hellyer
A gardener, in a ditch.

JOSEPH HENNESSEY

Where wind is required
Joe will be employed,
Thus in a glass factory he'll be known
As a glass-blower.

MILTON HERSTOFF

Colors bright Milt always liked,
No matter what the shade;
He'll probably a painter be
And let no colors fade.

JOHN HILTON

John is so tall and lanky
So thin and also slim,
That his parents have planned to make
A lamp post cleaner of him.

ARTHUR HOLMSTROM

We can all picture Arthur
A player in the U. S. Marine Band
His picture will be widely shown
And his name known throughout the land.

MILTON HORENSTEIN

History, though very sad,
Is Milton's recreation.
Corresponding with this taste
He's a historian in creation.

GABRIEL KROUDVIRD

When you see our jolly baker
Baking bread, cakes, and tarts,
You will know that he has found a way
To captivate the housewives' hearts.

HARVEY KROUDVIRD

Harvey will a coalman be
To serve you one and all
But when he opens the manhole
Through it he will fall!

STEPHEN KUBACKI

"Tobacco" a dreamy dancer shall be
Working in a cabaret
Let's hope that all the pretty girls
Won't lead your heart astray!

ANDREW LAFFERTY

A real reporter Andy will be,
Covering news of the zoo;
He'll interview the playful cubs,
As cub reporters always do.

EMILE LEMOINE

Emile a cafeteria will run,
In fact a second Mr. Bates he'll be,
But should he imitate the punch,
His clients will dwell in Eternity!

FRANK McCARTHY

How engrossed in books our hero is!
I see him running a bookstore;
His customers will be pleased we know
And surely come back for more.

ARTHUR MARKOWITZ

Arthur is a love pirate,
Sailing the seas so blue;
Searching for a maiden fair
Who'll stick by him like glue.

EDWARD MIDURSKI

Picture Eddie as an actor
Upon the local stage,
His work will be of interest,
Yes! So will his weekly wage.

ELTON MORDE

Here's a fellow who's hard to judge
Because h's future is so hazy,
But in whatever work he is,
I'm sure he won't be lazy.

ALBERT NEAGUS

Albert, stand at attention!
We did not ask you to bow,
And don't forget, Private Neagus,
You're in the Army now!

NORMAN NISBET

"Biscuits" is a floorwalker
Walking from morn 'till night
Giving information to people,
So let's hope it's right!

GEORGE NOWELL

A chicken-raiser George will be.
Here's hoping he does it well
For we know he loves his chicklings dearly (?)
On that little farm in the dell.

MARY OWERS

Watch out my merry gentlemen,
When champ archer Mary starts,
To manipulate her bow and arrow
To pierce your stalwart heart.

FRANCIS PERRON

In this great world of ours
Eight can understand Einstein's theory
But later on, nine there'll be
When Francis gets an A. B. in astronomy.

GORDON PARSONS

When you hear those pianos break
In some jazz-band reknown
Know ye all that Gordon has
A professional band of his own.

ROLAND PETIT

Roland's future we all know
Is just behind a counter;
Medicines he'll try to sell
Until things become sounder.

WALTON PHILLIPS

Who could it be that keeps that store
Of smokers' things on Main Street?
Why don't you know that Walton does,
He's such an enormous smoker.

STEFAN PONICHTERA

Stefan's joined of own accord
An order ecclesiastical.
Let's hope that his moral teachings
Teach no subject radical.

ALLAN RAWCLIFFE

Around a forge does Allen stand,
He's not a village 'smithy;
He heads a business of some size,
Blacksmithing in our city.

CHARLES RICHARDS

Charles' future is so black,
It's full of gory slaughter.
His trade, you see, is in this line,
He's naught else but a butcher.

CHARLES RYMUT

Charles Rymut aimed so very high
That now he's just psychologist.
Beware, O ye of joyful mind
For he detects all minds that list.

WILLIAM SHAW

His hair is long and wavy,
He has not long been missed;
His name is now a household word,
For Bill is now an artist.

HUNT SUTHERLAND

Surrounded of ions and molecules,
And mathematics deep,
Hunt has become a chemist
But, alas, he's always asleep!

AUGUST TAVEIRA

A brawny man has he become,
He wields a bunch of keys;
As janitor, Sir August makes,
One that every thing sees.

ALBERT TETRAULT

Among the birds and insects,
And all the creepy things,
Albert is a naturalist
Studying a specie that sings.

EDMUND TOMASIK

The only gentleman we have,
Is Edmund Tomasik.
But here is hope that his leisure
Will not lead him to be sick.

FREDERICK WALSH

Frederick's voice will his fortune be
I hope it is a 'bouncer';
His voice will fill a thousand ears;
He is a radio announcer.

DAVID WAXLER

In thoughts, and words, and movements,
David was always flighty;
Becoming it is that he should be
An airman loud and mighty.

Epilogue

A rousing cheer for '32
Your troubles will be less,
And may the years, as they roll by,
Bring life-long happiness.

Prophecy of the Prophets

RAYMOND BERGERON

Raymond likes the girlies
There's not a one to lose,
We're sure he'll be a bachelor
For he knows not which to choose.

ANDRE' BRISSE

Behold our Colonel Brisse
Riding a great white horse,
Shouting out loud directions,
Of the rookies he is the "boss".

BERTHA HORVITZ

The movies will not miss a thing,
When Clara Bow retires,
For Bertha will be there, you see,
The stage-work she admires.

MARION TRIPP

On a diving-board sweet Marion stands,
Her arms poised gracefully;
In the Olympics she figures high,
Our country's athlete she'll be.
